

Horology in Art

An Illustrated Lecture by Bob Frishman

Bob has a large collection of fine art images which include a clock within the scene. From Van Gogh to Dali, Titian, Homer, Magritte, Hopper, Rockwell and many more, these artists' works are familiar to art lovers but have not been joined together in this way. More than one hundred artworks from six centuries are shown and discussed in an entertaining combination of art and clock histories.

Bob Frishman, a full-time restorer of antique clocks since 1992, regularly writes and lectures on the history, science and culture of timekeeping. He is a Fellow of the National Association of Watch & Clock Collectors, and chairman of the NAWCC Symposium Committee. More about his background, expertise, services, presentations and scholarly work may be viewed at www.bell-time.com where nineteen "Horology in Art" articles recently published in the NAWCC magazine may be viewed.
